

Weekly Epidemiological Report

It is a record which disseminates epidemiological information on communicable diseases and outbreaks which has public health importance. A district summary of notified and confirmed communicable diseases is published and provides feedback to the communicable disease notification system. It includes a leading article on a timely and important topic of the country. It is prepared and disseminated weekly to all levels of the health system up to the divisional level.